G. EXAMINATION:i. Periodic Evaluation methods (FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT):

(Details in the space below)

Yes

Periodic Evaluation Methods (Formative Assessment):

The Department conducts regular formative assessment of postgraduate students throughout the training period to monitor their academic progress, clinical competence, professional behaviour, and skill acquisition. The following methods are employed:

Seminars: PG students periodically present seminars on assigned topics from the curriculum. These sessions assess their understanding of the subject, literature review, presentation skills, and ability to answer queries.

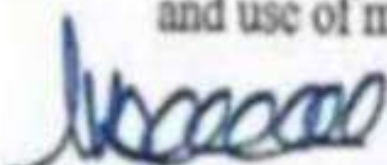

Case Presentations: Students present and discuss interesting, challenging, and routine clinical cases. This evaluates their clinical reasoning, decision-making, perioperative planning, and evidence-based approach to patient management.

Logbook Evaluation: The logbook is reviewed regularly to assess the number and variety of cases managed, procedures performed, academic activities attended, and competencies acquired as per curriculum requirements.

Group Discussions: Interactive discussions are conducted on important topics, recent guidelines, ethical issues, and problem-based scenarios to encourage critical thinking, teamwork, and communication skills.

Recent Advances Presentations: PG students periodically review and present recent advances, current literature, and updates in Anaesthesiology, Critical Care, and Pain Medicine to promote self-directed learning and evidence-based practice.

Skill-Based Learning and Assessment: Competency-based assessment of procedural skills is undertaken through direct observation during clinical postings. Skills such as airway management, vascular access, regional anaesthesia techniques, resuscitation, and use of monitoring devices are evaluated, and constructive feedback is provided.

i) Organ Donation Campaign REPORT

Institute: Dr.Shankarrao Chavan Government Medical College, Vishnupuri, Nanded
Organised by: Department of Anaesthesiology, Dr. Shankarrao Chavan Government Medical College, Nanded

Guidance by:

Dean: Dr Sudhir Deshmukh

Head of the Department: Dr Vaishnavi Vishwas Kulkarni

Nodal Officer: Dr Nazima Memon (Associate Professor)

Co-ordinator: Dr Minakshi Chole (Assistant Professor)

OBJECTIVES: Organ Donation Awareness Drive organised in the month of August 2025 was aimed to promote and create awareness about the noble cause of Organ Donation among the public and medical community, and to address the queries of common people regarding Organ Donation. The "organ donation campaign" was inaugurated by our respected Dean Dr. Sudhir Deshmukh on 2/08/2025 to 5 /08/2025 .The campaign was headed by Dr.Vaishnavi Kulkarni Professor and Head Department of Anaesthesiology.,Dr. Sanjaykumar More Professor and Head Department of microbiology, Dr. Vandana Dudhmal Professor and Head Department of Physiology Matron Mrs. Alka Jadhav also chaired the programme. HOD's of various departments attended the programme. The speech was given by Dean Dr.Sudhir Deshmukh ,Dr. Vaishnavi Kulkarni. Here is an overview of the activities that took place:

POSTER COMPETITION: An Poster Competition was organized on 02/08/25 by Department of Anaesthesiology. All UG and PG students, BAMS students, Interns, nursing students and BPMT students participated in the event. These posters covered various aspects of organ donation. The visually appealing posters effectively conveyed the significance of organ donation to the audience. A total of 30 posters were created by all students focusing on raising awareness about organ donation. The two faculty judges of different departments assessed the posters and 3 winners were selected and felicitated.

Rangoli Competition: We had 11 beautiful Rangolis drawn by PG students, MBBS students, BAMS students, nurses, and nursing students, BPMT students each depicting themes related to organ donation on 02/08/2025. The two judges of different faculty assessed the posters and 3 winners were selected and felicitated.

Skit: To extend the reach of the program, a skit was organized at the opd building of DR. SCGMC Nanded on 02/08/25. The skit was performed by MBBS students of our institute. This initiative aimed to sensitize the population about the significance of organ donation and its potential to save lives. Leaflets containing information on organ donation were distributed to common public to give more information regarding registration for organ donation campaign.

B) National Emergency Life Support (NELS) Training of Trainers (ToT) Programme

Duration: 18 August 2025 to 22 August 2025

Institute: NELS Skill Lab, Dr. Shankarrao Chavan Government Medical College, Nanded

With the constant support and guidance of Dean Dr. Sudhir Deshmukh, and under the leadership of Nodal Officer Dr. Sachin Totawar, the NELS Training Program has been successfully implemented in the department. Regular Training of Trainers (TOT) programs, faculty development activities, and training sessions for postgraduate students and nursing staff have been conducted successfully, contributing to the enhancement of emergency life-support skills and medical education."

BACKGROUND : The training was conducted over five days (18th to 22nd August 2025) at Dr. Shankarrao Chavan Government Medical College, Nanded.

The methodology adopted was participatory and skill-based, with emphasis on active learning.

Key components include

Interactive Lectures: Theoretical sessions covering principles of emergency care and NELS protocols.

Skill Stations: Hands-on practice on airway management, basic and advanced life support, trauma management, and other emergency procedures.

Simulation-Based Training: Use of mannequins and simulation models for real-life emergency scenarios.

Team Dynamics & Communication: Activities to strengthen coordination, leadership, and effective communication during emergencies.

Assessment & Feedback: Pre- and post-training assessments, along with continuous feedback from faculty, to evaluate participant progress.

This structured approach ensured that participants gained not only technical proficiency but also the confidence and competence required to serve as future trainers.

TRAINING OBJECTIVE : The main objectives of the National Emergency Life Support (NELS) Training of Trainers (ToT) were:

1. To enhance the knowledge and skills of doctors in standardized emergency life support practices.
2. To train doctors in the systematic management of life-threatening emergencies using evidence-based protocols.
3. To develop a pool of certified trainers who can conduct NELS courses for healthcare providers at various levels.
4. To promote teamwork, communication, and leadership skills essential for effective emergency response.
5. To contribute towards strengthening the emergency care delivery system at institutional, regional, and national levels.

iii. Any Other Information

BLS & ACLS CME

The Department of Anaesthesiology, Dr. Shankarrao Chavan Government Medical College (SCGMC), Nanded, in collaboration with the Departments of PSM, General Medicine, and Pediatrics, successfully conducted a two-day CME programme titled "Code Blue to Code Life: Saving Lives with BLS & ACLS" on 30th June and 1st July 2025 for resident doctors. The CME programme was accredited with four CME credit hours.

The programme aimed to strengthen the knowledge and practical skills of resident doctors in the management of cardiopulmonary emergencies. It included lectures and hands-on training on Basic Life Support (BLS), Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS), high-quality CPR, airway management, defibrillation, arrhythmia management, resuscitation pharmacology, pediatric resuscitation, and team dynamics. Simulation drills, skill stations, and mega code scenarios provided residents with valuable practical exposure and enhanced their confidence in handling emergency situations effectively.

The CME proved to be highly beneficial in improving the emergency response capabilities and resuscitation skills of resident doctors, thereby promoting better patient care and outcomes.
